Report on Business

1. Provide a general overview and discussion of the development of the Issuer’s business and operations over the previous month. Where the Issuer was inactive disclose this fact.

HealthSpace is now delivering its new Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) flagship technology platform HS Cloud Suite Pro, which incorporates a cloud-enabled administration dashboard; with a multi-endpoint mobile auditing and reporting system that offers native apps on all major platforms; and a rich reporting and analytics toolset to maximize business intelligence activities. Feedback on this new platform from existing customers and new prospective clients in both government and commercial enterprise engagements has been very positive.

HealthSpace’s ongoing engagement with government customers in both the US and Canada continues to drive growth and viable learning opportunities to continue to innovate our technology offerings. In 2017, we are now actively introducing our platform and services into commercial enterprise clients in food & beverage, hospitality, assisted living, and child-care. Ongoing discovery work based on HealthSpace’s agricultural capabilities is now being integrated into cannabis production and distribution processes through work with both US and Canadian partners.

On November 22, 2017 the Company announced that it has begun to prototype their iOS and Android inspection applications to implement blockchain technology. Blockchain serves as the next technological revolution for storing and sharing distributed data that has multiple sources of input. This provides capability for transferring any digital data between multiple participants in a secure and auditable fashion.

HealthSpace has a long history of providing surveillance, auditing and regulatory compliance for health and consumer protection that requires secure access from multiple sources. As HealthSpace continues to extend its work into the commercial enterprise markets for restaurants, hospitality, hotels and cannabis, it becomes paramount that there be a common system of record connecting the regulatory data and events transacted at private businesses. By utilizing blockchain, HealthSpace can build such a system.

HealthSpace will provide an innovative inspection and auditing system built for regulatory and quality assurance oversight that implements a distributed blockchain ledger using smart contracts. These smart contracts provide customization of blockchain transactions and will facilitate a continuous chain of events tied to a singular location or product. In the case of cannabis, HealthSpace can facilitate the mechanisms needed to create a complete seed to sale tracking management system. This will provide security and transparency for product traceability and financial transactions. This will also allow the industry to implement digital currency.

As governments move to legalize cannabis use across North America they will enact regulatory frameworks that will target and regulate both production and sales. HealthSpace's activity in providing solutions for the private sector will ideally position the company to provide the electronic regulatory surveillance and enforcement solutions that will be needed in the public space. HealthSpace believes it can become the defacto blockchain network for any data process within a business that requires oversight of multiple departments. Deploying a blockchain enabled inspection platform that generates tokenized data points which include auditing requirements, results, permissions, location, performance and encodes information to its own ledger is an opportunity not currently being delivered in the blockchain and tokenization marketplace.
